

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hcc/2014/02/Stunning-Style---1950-Oldsmobile-98-Holiday-Coupe/3734461.html>

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hcc/2014/06/Aunt-Jane-s-Time-Machine---1952-Studebaker-State-Starliner/3738451.html>

<https://www.hemmings.com/blog/2014/06/30/driving-impressions-1966-oldsmobile-starfire/>

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hcc/2014/07/A-Valiant-Effort---1947-Oldsmobile-66/3739371.html>

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/mus/2013/10/1970-Oldsmobile-Toronado-GT/3730701.html>

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hcc/2017/08/Fully-Automatic-Future---1940-Oldsmobile-90-Club-Coupe/3751031.html>

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hcc/2013/09/Viva-La-Vista---1964-Oldsmobile-Vista-Cruiser-Station-Wagon/3729181.html>

822 | Wednesday, July 5, 2017 THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

LIFE & ARTS

NEW RIDE | By A.J. Balme

An Oldsmobile Obsessive Explains Himself

Jim Schultz, 66, an avid collector of vintage cars from the 1930s to the 1970s, says he's an Oldsmobile fan. He's not alone. In the past few years, he's bought a 1947 Oldsmobile 66, a 1950 Oldsmobile 98 Holiday Coupe, a 1952 Studebaker State Starliner, a 1966 Oldsmobile Starfire, a 1970 Oldsmobile Toronado GT, and a 1940 Oldsmobile 90 Club Coupe. He's also a member of the National Oldsmobile Club, a group of enthusiasts who share his passion for the brand.

Jim Schultz with his family's Oldsmobile 90 Club Coupe at the National Oldsmobile Club meet-up in Reading, Pa.

out of the factory on April 25, 1940. Because he's a collector, he's kept it in the family ever since. He's also a member of the National Oldsmobile Club, a group of enthusiasts who share his passion for the brand.

Contact: A.J. Balme at Facebook.com/WallStreetJournal

Click HERE to enlarge

<https://www.hemmings.com/magazine/hsx/2015/08/The-Modern-Classic-Roadster--Take-II/3748826.html>

